

FROM LEFT One of the Brewery's 22 converted warehouses. Resident Claudia Endler and her green tourmaline bezel ring.

LOS ANGELES

Home Made

Just off L.A.'s 5 Freeway, the Brewery ArtWalk offers visitors a chance to experience the world's largest artist-in-residence compound.

"We have the Burning Man crowd showing in museums, and then there are people like architects and furniture craftsmen," says Claudia Endler, a jewelry designer who has lived at the 23-acre Brewery Art Colony for 10 years. Her advice: "It's a big place, so bring your map!" Apr. 16 & 17; 2100 N. Main St., L.A.; breweryartwalk.com.

SAN FRANCISCO

Shape Shifters

Dance and architecture collide in extraordinary ways as members of Alonzo King's Lines Ballet contort and transform around architect Christopher Haas' modular sculptures of recycled materials. Apr. 15-24; Yerba Buena Center for the Arts, S.F.; linesballet.org.

NEWPORT BEACH STATUESQUE

Including works from seven young sculptors, the Orange County Museum of Art opens "Alexander Calder and Contemporary Art: Form, Balance, Joy." Apr. 10-Sept. 4; ocma.net.

Kristi Lippore, Balloons, 2008.

3 SPRING FLICKS

Michael Angerano tries to foil the wedding of a beautiful older woman (Uma Thurman) in Max Winkler's Ceremony. Apr. 8. Robert Pattinson, Reese Witherspoon and Christoph Waltz star in the circus-themed drama Water for Elephants. Apr. 22. A CIA agent (Cate Blanchett) follows Hanna (Saoirse Ronan) on a dangerous mission across Europe. Apr. 8.

Ceremony

Water for Elephants

Hanna