Claudia Endler Designs Announces Launch of Power Ring

Local Jewelry Designer Helps Clients 'Ignite Their Power Within' Through Innovative Design

LOS ANGELES (February 14, 2016) -- Local boutique jewelry designer Claudia Endler has a passion for jewelry, modern design and helping people with self-expression. Her chosen career path lets her combine all three in an all new stunning and tangible way through the launch of what Endler has dubbed, the Power Ring.

"I first created the Power Ring as my own personal talisman to give me the strength of living life to my fullest potential," Endler said about her inspiration behind the avant-garde design.

The Power Ring is the first piece in this series, Ender says. Created with the intention of empowering whomever wears it to reveal, strengthen and celebrate their own unique qualities.

The Power Ring is a symbolic design inspired by the idea of looking inward, the notion of what a person needs is already inside of them. The clean and classic lines are imaginative, crossing the boundaries of art and design. The stone is set uncharacteristically deep inside its domed core, not immediately visible. The intense sparkle however, reflecting on the mirrored walls around it, reveals rays of light, amplifying the scintillation. This reflection can even be seen from an angle.

"There is something that drives us and moves us. Sometimes it is not always visible to the outside world. Sometimes it is not even visible to ourselves. Sometimes we have to dig deep to find it. When we do, the light is so bright, it expands our perception of what is possible. We become more powerful," Endler says.

Ignite your power within.
